Implement a C++ program that defines two functions to perform addition and subtraction of two numbers. Then, use function pointers to allow the user to choose which operation to perform.

Example:

Input:
Choose operation (+, -): +
Enter The first number: 50
Enter The second number: 70

Output:
The result = 120

Thank You